HEADHUNTING & RECRUITMENT

Search and Selection of Experienced Professionals and Executives

Headhunting is one of the most effective methods for sourcing and getting candidates for top positions, who might not necessarily be looking for a job change.

This service includes understanding of client's requirement, market research, preparation of a list of target companies, identifying and contacting potential candidates with required profiles, screening and shortlisting of candidates and presentation of candidates selected by client.

We also offer a service of Personal Profile Analysis, which includes various types of psychodiagnostics and psychometric testing.

Throughout the selection, up to the final stage, your company's name remains confidential, in order to avoid any misunderstandings.

Contact us and we will prepare an individual calculation for your project.

- Focus on top, senior management and executives from Europe
 - Long term guarantee on new hires
 - Introduction of 3 best candidates
 - Full CV with a behavioural profile
 - Support with relocation

Although headhunting is our main specialty, we also offer recruitment services for finding and hiring the best-qualified candidate for a job opening, in a timely and cost-effective manner.

Recruitment process starts with job requirements analysis based on extensive communication with our clients and continues with attracting candidates to the job, screening and selecting applicants and presenting the most suitable candidates to the client.

LINKEDIN BOOSTER

Create your personal LinkedIn brand

LinkedIn is the most effective network in candidate's search.

Let us upgrade your profile on LinkedIn and you will not stay unnoticed by employers, recruiters or headhunters. Refresh contacts with your former colleagues or acquaintances, join interesting groups from your industry to get new know-how or discuss interesting questions and get opinions to increase your professional credibility.

Three reasons why having a professional LinkedIn profile is a must:

- Build your professional network
- Increase your professional credibility
- Receive new business or job opportunities on the market

We offer LinkedIn Profiles Makeover in various language versions: English, Arabic, German, Hungarian, Slovak and Czech.

LinkedIn is a modern method of communication between companies, their employees, clients, partners, competitors or basically with the whole market. Building a professional company LinkedIn profile will increase your company's credibility as an employer and will help you attract potential future employees faster and more effectively.
